

We impact how our clients are able to retire, to protect their families, to protect their businesses.

—John W., Greensboro, North Carolina

As a life insurance agent, I am charged with bringing financial security to my clients.

—Gib S., Houston, Texas

Collectively, all of us together, speaking in one voice for the industry really does make a tremendous impact.

—Russell V., Birmingham, Alabama

Families and businesses are counting on us — the financial plans we have put in place are critically important to them.

—Rich D., Charlotte, North Carolina

This week, more than 500 life insurance agents and financial advisors are on Capitol Hill educating lawmakers about the benefits our products provide to families and businesses every day. The life insurance industry is proud to help Americans grow and protect their financial and retirement security.
